HOUSE DISCUSSES

RULES OF PROCEDURE

In the House yesterday afternoon.

Mr. Naillma seconded the motion of C.

H. Dickey to suspend rule 88, but as it required a unanimous vote of the House, it failed of passage.

Rule 88 reads as follows:

"No rule of the House shall be altered or rescinded, nor any new standing rule be adopted, without one day's notice being given of the motion therefor."

Mr. Ewaliko moved the adoption of all the rules, which brought C. H. Dickey to his feet. The latter stated that the member from Hawaii was out of order, as all the rules had been adopted several days ago.

Mr. Dickey arose and asked the chair under what order of the day it was proper to bring up new business.

Speaker Akina stated that matters such as bills specially set for that day were the order of the day.

Mr. Makekau of Hawaii arose and immediately resumed his seat, reserving until a future time, perhaps, some weighty resolution or the introduction of some measure for the benefit of his constituents on Hawaii.

Mr. Robertson, the parliamentarian, of the House, took the floor and, for the benefit of Mr. Dickey and several others, outlined the order of business of the House, such as message from the Governor, reports and communications, heads of departments, resolutions of the Senate, reports of standing and special committees, etc.

Mr. Robertson gave notice that he would make a motion to amend rule 88 to conform with rule 88.

Considerable time was spent in discussion of rules, many of the members evinced no interest in the proceedings.

Speaker Akina appointed the following members of the standing committees, as given in yesterday's Bulletin.

Speaker Akina informed the members of the House that it would be impossible to supply the members with the books mentioned in the resolution of Mr. Robertson on last Monday.

The House then adjourned to Wednesday.

NAPOLEON RELIC FOUND.

New York, February 12.—From an ash barrel that had been consigned to a dump in Plainfield, N. J., has been rescued a mask of Napoleon taken after his death at St. Helena. Colonel Julian Scott, the artist, who found the mask, says it is a duplicate of the one now in the Metropolitan Museum of Art in New York having been taken at the same time.

How the mask came into the ash barrel is a mystery. It is somewhat defaced, but Colonel Scott believes the precious relic can be restored, and that it will be almost as perfect as when it was molded.

This mask belonged to the Surovov collection of valuable works of art when the owner lived years ago in North Plainfield.

After his death, it is supposed, it fell into the hands of persons who did not know its value and gradually it drifted from the knowledge of those who were aware of its existence. There is an uncorroborated report that it lay for years in a junk shop and nobody would buy it. Mrs. Astor gave to the Metropolitan Museum of Art the mask of Napoleon now in that institution.

SUGAR MEN TALK

OF RUSSIAN SUGARS

New York, Feb. 15.—Secretary Gage's order imposing a countervailing duty of 32 cents on each pound (36 pounds) of Russian sugar imported into this country is the subject of considerable comment among sugar men. Alfred F.

Gray of Willett & Gray said:

"Some time ago the Secretary sent an expert to investigate the sugar growing industry in Russia and to find out if Russia really paid a bounty.

either direct or indirect, on sugar production. It has not as yet been determined whether or not Russia has a differential bounty on the exportation of refined sugar. It was found, how-
